TIN WEDDING

MR. AND MRS. IRA D. VINTON
CELEBRATE TEN YEARS OF WEDDED LIFE

A happy occasion on the week's social calendar took place on the evening of December 1st when the Ira D. Vintons received friends in their Pioneer Drive home, celebrating their tin wedding anniversary, in other words the Vintons had been married just ten years.

The evening's pleasant diversion of music and games was surrounded by a wealth of pepper foliage and poinsettias and an elaborate buffet lunch was served at a late hour on tin ware.

In place of tin articles the host and hostess received useful and beautiful pieces of shining aluminum and the Pioneer club of ladies, of which Mrs. Vinton is a member, presented their gift in the shape of an electric percolator.

Mrs. Vinton made a charming picture in her quaint dress of white organdy, a garment made for her bridal trousseau ten years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Vinton from Huntington Park, parents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Musgrave of Los Angeles, parents of the bride, assisted Mr. and Mrs. Vinton in receiving. The personnel of guests included Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hoagland, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Andree, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Frey, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sheppard, Miss Marie Albers of Glendale; Miss Betty Grosse of Joslyn, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Osborn of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Waring of Colorado Springs, Colorado; the R. F. Stratons and the W. H. Harpers and Miss Helen Musgrave, sister of Mrs. Vinton, all from Los Angeles.

NEWS OF BOB FITZSIMMONS

Mrs. Bob Fitzsimmons, the converted actress, seemed to walk on air last night as she told good news about her husband, the famous prizefighter, at the Baptist church meeting. Down in Los Angeles she ran into one of her former managers who had just left Bob in the east. He gave an encouraging report of Mr. Fitzsimmons to his wife.

Bob has been sober for two weeks. He carries around in his pocket a newspaper clipping which tells how his wife in the west has found Christ and is now telling others the story of Jesus and his power to save. The children are doing nicely, which should surely be a comfort to a mother's heart. Equally as helpful was the tidings that Mr. Fitzsimmons is telling his friends that in losing everything, including money and friends, he has found a Christian wife and hopes soon to stand with her.

It did Brother Wildman good to see how near God has come to fulfilling his prayer for the salvation of Bob Fitzsimmons. It is sincerely hoped that the famous monarch of the ring will yet stand up at one of the live meetings of the Baptist church and tell how the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which is lost.

Next extra meeting will be held Sunday afternoon, at which time Rev. A. B. DeRoos, converted Jew, will preach by request his powerful message on "Law and Grace." Seventh Day Adventists and Hebrews should especially hear this message. Watch the columns of the Evening News for Sunday's big program.

CONGREGATIONALISTS ELECT OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the First Congregational church held last evening the following were elected as officers: Clerk, Miss Mabel C. Galey; treasurer, Miss Emma Adams; trustees for three years, W. J. Butten and H. Arthur Miner; deacon for three years, George E. Adams; ushers, Ed. Yard, George E. Adams, C. M. Van Dyke and A. A. Tyler; deaconess for three years, Mrs. George E. Adams; chairmen of committees: finance, S. W. Frazee; benevolences, J. E. Storm; religious work, W. D. McRae; social, Mrs. A. S. Chase; auditors, H. H. Spaulding, D. A. Lane.

CONVICTED THIRD TIME

Before Judge Whomes Thursday morning, C. F. Gurnee, Glendale avenue, was convicted of having been intoxicated and with having committed a breach of the peace at Third and Glendale, Wednesday night, at 6:30 o'clock. Gurnee has been convicted twice before for similar offense. Last time the judge sentenced him to ten days in jail. This time he was given twenty days.

TELLS OF BIBLE WORK

W. E. HENDERSON, ACTIVE IN GIDEON BAND MOVEMENT,
IN GLENDALE

Members of the Presbyterian church crowded the weekly prayer meeting to hear the interesting address of Mr. W. E. Henderson, who is an active worker in the Gideon band movement. Mr. Henderson is also an old friend of the pastor, the Rev. W. E. Edmonds, the friendship dating from the time when the pastor was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in Illinois.

The Gideon Band is an association of Christian traveling men who have associated themselves together for the purpose of improving the condition of traveling men throughout the states by placing Bibles in all the hotels. There are 600,000 traveling men and already 300,000 Bibles have been issued for their use. California leads all the states, having 38,000 Bibles in her hotels.

Two carloads came into this state at one time bringing 25,000 Bibles. Since called into this work Mr. Henderson has been of great service in helping men and women out of their difficulties by directing them to the Word of God. Several years ago Mr. Henderson was presented by Miss Helen Gould with a Bible as a prize for reciting 500 verses from the Bible without an error. He urged on his readers daily study of the Bible, God's revelation to man.

ACCIDENT IN CAJON PASS

While on their way to Hesperia, which is about fifteen miles beyond Victorville, Mr. George Dunn, Mrs. George Dunn and their son and Mrs. L. A. Siefer met with an accident that might have had very serious consequences. The party, which left Glendale Sunday in an automobile, had got a little way beyond Victorville and was in Cajon pass when the hind axle broke. The weight of the men on one side of the auto tipped it over and it fell on Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Siefer, bruising Mrs. Dunn and injuring Mrs. Siefer badly. The boy was uninjured. The party got back to Victorville, where the injured were sent to the hospital. The Duns have been residing in Glendale a short time, having come here to attend the marriage of their daughter to Dick Mills.

THE CLOSING OF THE WAR

All talk about the closing of the war is idle gossip. Every well-meaning citizen would prefer to see the great European war come to a speedy close, but under present conditions the war will not come to an end until a few disputed questions are settled definitely.

It would be as reasonable to expect a falling body to cease falling in mid-air as it would be to expect the war to close now. While there was not any apparent cause for the starting of the war, the very fact that there has been war and many lives have been lost and great bitterness has been engendered between people of the warring nations on account of the same is sufficient reason to believe that the war will not end until important questions are settled definitely.

Henry Ford's intentions are good when he advocates peace and would make a trip to Europe to aid in bringing about peace, but all the trips he makes to Europe will be without results in this particular.

RELICS OF THE PAST

R. M. JACKSON FINDS INTERESTING DOCUMENTS AMONG OLD KENTUCKY PAPERS

Mr. R. M. Jackson, the active secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, brought with him from Kentucky a number of ancient documents and papers relating to ante-slavery days. In looking over some of these documents the other day he came across a copy of the "ball bond of Jefferson Davis, late president of the Confederate States, filed in the circuit court of the United States for the District of Virginia May 1, 1867."

This singular and interesting document shows that Davis on that date appeared at the courthouse, Richmond, Virginia, and acknowledged that he owed the United States of America the sum of $100,000, which sum was fixed as his bail bond guaranteeing his appearance at the Circuit Court of the United States to be held at Richmond, Va., Nov. 4, 1867, "to answer as he might be charged on that occasion, and to stand, abide and perform whatever should then be ordered and adjudged." The document was connected with the settlement of certain situations created by the Civil war.

Most curious it is to find on Jefferson's bail bond such names as those of Horace Greely, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Augustus Schell, John A. Meredith and other prominent men. The number of signatures is twenty in all. Each was bound in the sum of $5000. Perhaps as curious as anything else in this old document is the fact that two of the signers, James Thomas and Thomas R. Price, men able to give an undertaking for $5000, were unable to write and signed the bail bond by making their marks.

Another old document is a bill of sale for two female slaves given by Samuel Emmerson of Lincoln county, Kentucky, to his son, John Emmerson, of the same state and county. This document, which is a holograph instrument, executed by Samuel Emmerson, spelling as in the original follows:

"Know all men by these presents that I Samuel Emmerson of Lincoln county, Kentucky, have for a good and valuable consideration bargained, sold and delivered unto my son, John Emmerson, of the County and state aforesaid, two negro girls, to wit, one Negro girl, Named Sinty, a bought eight years ago, and one Negro girl Named Sarry a bought fore years of age.

"The title of which I do by these presents warrant from me my heirs &c or from the claim or claims of any other person or persons in testimony of which I have hereunto set my hand and seal this Nineteenth day of October 1808." This document is witnessed by George Burke and Reuben Emmerson.

Whatever may be thought of Samuel Emmerson's spelling it must be remembered that George Washington's was very much on the same order as was also the spelling of many other eminent men of that day and generation.

Another interesting document is an ancient conveyance of date 1857, which runs as follows: "I have this day sold to my daughter Nancy all my household furniture and kitchen furniture and loom and all that belongs to said loom and my wheels two boxes one falling ax and cow huffer and bell the hackle smoothing iron one plow and clivis and link five head of hogs there is to be excepted one bed for Bartheny Phillips and the big kittle for Nimrod, the real is to be Nancys and one pair of sheep-shears these articles and thirty-one acres of land is sold to satisfy Nancy for her services to me since she has bin of age, this April 15th day 1857."

In this case the conveyance is written by John Wood and is signed by Isaac Loven, who could not write but made his mark. It is witnessed by Willy Loven, who also makes his mark. These documents were among the family papers of the Jacksons, who lived for many generations in and around London, Kentucky.

PRE-COMMUNION SERVICES

In view of the celebration of communion on Sunday, the Presbyterian church of Tropic is holding pre-communion services this week. Thursday night the Rev. E. L. B. McClelland of the Second Presbyterian church of Los Angeles will preach. Friday night the Rev. Thomas Walker of Boyle Heights Presbyterian church will officiate. The public is cordially invited to these services which are certain to tend to spiritual edification.

FROM BUSY CENTER

MR. HOMER NEWHOUSE SAYS CANTON, OHIO, IS FILLED UP WITH WAR ORDERS

"When I left Canton, Ohio, a little more than a week ago," said Mr. Homer Newhouse, "the ground was frozen hard and the snow was falling. The fierce winter of the middle west had settled down everywhere and the peering winds were blowing across the old prairies. It is quite a contrast to find oneself in sunny California with warm days and nights not too cool. It is pleasant to look around and see the flowers in bloom and the vegetables coming along in carefully devised succession, potatoes well advanced and people getting ready to put in another crop. "It really upsets one's ideas of things to find such a day as this on the second day of December. I shall be pleased to witness a winter without snow. One has to come direct from the discomforts of an Ohio winter to appreciate the wonderful climate that is to be found in Southern California."

Mr. Newhouse arrived in Glendale last Saturday along with his wife and baby. They are friends of Mr. and Mrs. Heacock, 507 W. Ninth street. Mrs. Newhouse is a cousin of Mr. Heacock's mother. It will be remembered that the parents of Mr. Heacock recently came to Glendale from Kansas. It is probable that Mr. Newhouse will remain here with his family. This is a good example of how California is colonized.

"I am a molder," said Mr. Newhouse. "I hope to get work at my trade in one of the big structural ironworks in Los Angeles. I wish to remain in Southern California. There is plenty of work in Canton, Ohio, but Mrs. Newhouse would like to be with her own people and we are both attracted by the climate of this place."

"Canton, Ohio, the home town of the martyred president, William McKinley, is as busy just now as a town can be. It is a great manufacturing center. The United States Steel company has large works there where structural iron is manufactured. At present the works are engaged in war orders, chiefly huge iron girders for bridges and other structural iron work. The orders they have in hand now will keep them working till spring. Another company was erecting a big blast furnace when I left."

"With all that I prefer this part of the country and I have no desire to leave the vicinity of Glendale now that I realize what a paradise exists in Southern California."

GLENDALE CLUB WOMEN SPECIAL GUESTS

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and Mrs. A. L. Weaver were luncheon guests on Wednesday at the Wednesday Morning club in Los Angeles. The Wednesday Morning club, of which Mrs. W. E. Bush is president, is a very wide awake club of splendid, capable women. They are the proud possessors of a beautiful club house, well equipped, for every activity. The members of the club are very proud of their bright, cheery dining room. The tables for yesterday's luncheon were beautifully decorated with California holly berries. From the luncheon the ladies adjourned to a very interesting books and conversation section, of which Mrs. M. E. Johnson is curator. Mrs. Johnson is chairman of program as well, and at the regular club meeting Mrs. Mattison B. Jones was the speaker of the day.

Miss Ara Bowler gave several artistic renditions by MacDowell on the fine grand piano with which the auditorium is equipped. Mrs. Jones addressed a large and appreciative audience on the subject "What Every Woman Should Know." Mrs. Jones treated her interesting subject in a bright and instructive manner and was given a hearty rising vote of thanks on motion of Mrs. W. C. Mushet, a former president of the Wednesday Morning club and past president of the Los Angeles district and first vice president of the state. Mrs. Mushet stated that Mrs. Jones had treated in her address the subjects which every woman should know and altogether too many did not know. Although of about equal membership with the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club the Wednesday Morning club have the advantage of a well equipped club house, enlarging their club activities and broadening their usefulness and power.

A nurse is in attendance at the Dr. D. W. Hunt home, 125 West Fifth street. The doctor is quite ill and confined to his room with la grippe, while Miss Dorothy Hunt is slowly recovering from a severe attack of ptomaine poisoning.

WASTE OF FOOD SUPPLIES

Considering the immense progress that has been made by the United States in the way of cultivation of the land, breeding of cattle and reclamation of waste territory during the past fifty years, it is amazing to learn that this country is confronted with short food supplies. It is even stated that this condition, instead of becoming better, is likely to become worse.

Of all the arable land in the United States only 27 per cent is under cultivation. Even that 27 per cent does not yield one-half of what it would if handled by modern methods of cultivation. In China, with its vast population of 500,000,000, intensive cultivation of the ground was learned long ago. Along every road and highway in that wonderful land the ground that goes to waste in the United States would be all laid out in vegetable gardens. The people manage to keep themselves alive on little patches of ground such as are often seen lying idle in this land.

It is possible for any nation to waste its inheritance and there is grave reason to fear that, as a nation, the United States has not lived up to the ideal of cultivation. In the year 1913 the number of meat-producing animals in the United States decreased to such an extent that experts took alarm. Beef cattle showed a falling off of 1,762,000 head. That is equal to 5 per cent. The number of hogs was reduced by 4,082,000. That is 7 per cent. All this time the population has been steadily increasing. The decreases of 1913 have not been made up in 1915.

From a monetary point of view 1915 was quite a fair year for the agriculturist. The farmer got more for the things he sold and made large profits everywhere. At the same time it must be remembered that he had to pay more for the things he bought. Making inroads into his capital represented by meat-producing animals has not benefitted the American farmer.

American pasture land is now more than two-thirds greater than the land tilled. The raising of livestock has been greatly neglected. In a country like California where alfalfa grows in such superabundance, there should be no trouble in raising hogs at an immense profit. The demand is great; the time needed to fatten the hogs is short and the money invested in them can be turned over several times in a short period.

It should be impossible to repeat here the folly of some of the western states where the prairies have been whitened many times during the last thirty years with the bones of tens of thousands of cattle killed through exposure. In fact, California, with its capacity for alfalfa growing and its open climate, is in a position to give an object lesson to many in the states as to how to avoid the riotous waste which brings on shortage and suffering.

FORD AND HIS PEACE SHIP

Because Henry Ford has succeeded as a maker of automobiles it does not follow that he is able to unravel the tangled skein of European politics and war at the present moment. Ford has accumulated a few million dollars by attending to his own business. It remains to be seen how much he is likely to lose by attending to what concerns other persons.

It is characteristic of humanity that elevation to a prominent position often results in that individual's losing his head. Ford was "persona grata" to the whole world as long as he did not go outside of his own works. With the exception of his rivals in business it was believed by everyone that he was an amiable and well-meaning party, whose experiments in profit-sharing were novel and interesting.

Henry Ford is just the same man now he was when he launched out on his philanthropic career, but ever since he was asked by President Wilson to act on the national Inventions Board Ford seems to have lost all sense of proportion. He conceives that he is not only a figure of national but also of international importance. He must needs solve the question of war in Europe and "have the boys out of the trenches by Christmas."

That is an excellent idea if there were any possibility of its being effected. That his proposition has been greeted with a shout of laughter all over the world and even by "the boys in the trenches" might easily convince one not so blinded by a desire for peace at any price that it might be well to pause before attempting any such propaganda.

Ford's idea of sending a "Peace Ship" to Europe, carrying eminent men and women, to the different countries, is idyllic; but it is to be feared it is about as likely to succeed as the voyage of the wiseacres who went to sea in a sieve. It is not to be believed that any of the warring nations would permit Ford and his peace party to speak to the "boys in the trenches," and the whole party, with its battery of fifty newspapermen who are eager to make capital out of it, would likely be delayed indefinitely in the rear of the fighting, if indeed it should ever get anywhere near the scene of actual warfare.

Even Ford's artless mind might be opened by the fact that, one by one, his illustrious coadjutors in this novel scheme for bringing about peace, are deserting him. Several eminent lecturers have sent the scriptural answer, "I pray thee have me excused." Jane Addams is sick at the last moment; and last but not least even William Jennings Bryan sees in what quarter the wind sits and "has been forced to decline," but "may" join the party afterward in Europe. "That was the most unkindest cut of all." It is pretty safe to say that the well-meaning Ford will be left with a very poor selection of peace advocates, if it does not happen that of them it may have at last to be recorded as of the "ten little niggers—then there were none."

CHARACTERISTICS OF A GOOD CITIZEN

FOR CHRISTMAS

YOUR PHOTOGRAPH. The simple gift that lends the touch of friendship without the embarrassment of an obligation.
S. C. MARANVILLE—The Photographer in Your Town.

LA CRESCENTA

Joe Hawkins, La Crescenta's real estate man, rented the Russel home on Honolulu avenue to Mr. Bacon, a lineman for the Pacific Light and Power company.

The Joe Hawkins family spent Thanksgiving day in an auto ride through Topanga canyon and ate dinner on Crescent bay.

Thanksgiving at Fairmount

Fairmount hotel at La Crescenta proved to be a popular resort over Thanksgiving week-end. Even the famous Spanish resort of Casa Verdugo furnished its share to the local hostelry. Among those who partook of the turkey feast were: Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hopkins, Dorothy Thurston, Edward Smythe, S. Emilie Wilcox, Mrs. A. G. Thurston, Mrs. M. E. Knight, all of Pasadena; Cora E. Tardee, H. Spear and wife, Monrovia; E. Maud Soper, Thomas Saege, Mrs. M. C. Saege, Casa Verdugo; Miss Mary M. Donichy, Glendale; Marian R. Henry, Tropic; Henry W. Webb, Seattle; Mrs. George P. Griffith, George P. Griffith and George, Jr., of Los Angeles, Joanna Murray, Mrs. Fenton Knight and Miss Elizabeth R. Knight, Pasadena.

Ladies in Runaway

Miss Gordon, of the La Crescenta Hotel, and Mrs. Louis R. Myers, wife of a prominent Los Angeles judge, and two children, were the victims of a serious runaway Friday, when the team which Miss Gordon was driving broke a tug which allowed the whiffletree to beat one horse's legs and the broken tug snap against the other animal. The horses started running on Fairmount avenue and by the time they turned the corner at the hotel, Mrs. Myers had dropped her small son, John, from the buggy, and the two women and little Elizabeth Myers were catapulted from the rig. Baby John was uninjured, little Miss Elizabeth suffered a bumped head and abrasions on the face, Mrs. Myers a sprained ankle, while Miss Gordon was picked up unconscious. Dr. Chase, of Glendale, was called and the injured parties cared for. All, however, had recovered by Tuesday with the exception of Mrs. Myers, who is still on crutches.

Guests at La Crescenta

A turkey dinner was the big attraction at the La Crescenta Hotel, Thanksgiving. Thirty-two guests partook of the sumptuous feast spread before them while many lingered over the week-end. Following are the registries: Adaline Fordham, Nancy Bell Fordham, Santa Barbara; Harry J. Rose and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ayres, Misses Carrie and Carlotta Rydman, R. B. Emery and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Price, Master Harold Price, Mrs. G. A. Whifford, Mrs. G. A. Montgomery, Misses Adele, Gergette, and Elise Corte, Mrs. Louis W. Myers and children, John and Elizabeth; Mrs. Brown and daughter Ruth, Mrs. Dr. Frank Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas, Los Angeles.

A party consisting of the Misses Helen and Elizabeth Rohne of Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Herlihy, Mr. Harold W. Herlihy, of Pasadena, and Mr. Charles W. Rohne of South Pasadena. This week-end event was a pre-nuptial affair, inasmuch as the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Rohne and Mr. Harold Herlihy has been but recently announced.

Work at Walton Wells

Drillers, under the direction of J. W. Irby of Los Angeles, are getting gratifying results from their development work at the Walton ranch wells. Three news wells have been sunk and the fourth is to be started the first of next week. The estimated flow from the four is two hundred and fifty miners inches. Three wells already sunk show nearly two hundred inches. The depth of the present water strata is between one hundred and one hundred and twenty-five feet. According to Mr. Irby, drilling in this territory is much easier than he imagined. Walton's wells are located south of Honolulu near Dunsnoor.

High School to Debate

Burbank High School is preparing for a victorious debating campaign against Monrovia and the Citrus Union High Schools. Professor Livingston has started his two teams on the question: Resolved, That Our Legislation Should Be Shaped Toward a Gradual Abandonment of the Protective Tariff. The teams which debated here on the last debate will go to Monrovia, while the other team will stay at home to defend Burbank against the Citrus Union of Ontario. The High School basketball team, during the past week, has met Glendale, San Fernando and Hollywood fives in practise affairs.

Two new concrete tennis courts are to be built this coming week on the High School campus. They will be fitted up with wire netting and will be modern in every respect. The tennis courts will prove a popular place for healthful exercise, Professor Livingston believes.

Groshong. The young couple were quietly married at the home of Rev. Homuth, of Los Angeles, after which they journeyed to San Diego, on a honeymoon trip to the California exposition. Miss Schelling was formerly employed in the First National Bank here, and Mr. Groshong is a popular employee of the Luttge Grocery. Upon their return home Monday evening the young couple were entertained at a reception given by relatives at the home of the bride's parents on Verdugo and San Fernando avenue. The young couple will make their home in an apartment at her father's home.

Rev. Davenport's mother is visiting at his home at present.

J. P. Wilson and wife of Lincoln, Nebraska, were visitors in Burbank Tuesday and Wednesday. While here, they stopped at the Burbank Hotel. They also visited the Hornby home.

Miss Mildred Hatch, of the Burbank Hotel, has been confined to her bed the past week with an acute attack of appendicitis. Miss Hatch, however, has passed the critical stage, and is on the high road to recovery. During her daughter's illness, Mrs. Hatch had the hotel dining room closed but it was reopened Thursday to regular boarders.

A QUESTION OF CUSHIONS

Cushions seem more beautiful this year than ever before. One in rose taffeta is rather unusual, being oval in shape. It has a wide shirred puff with a cord at either side and the outer edge forms a full ruffle four inches in width which finishes the edge of the pillow, while the inner cord frames the oval plain panel in the center on which the owner's initials are embroidered in silver thread. Another is in mufin shape and of black satin. It has two strips of white lace insertion two inches wide running across it from side to side, and in the center of the lace is a tiny black satin vine, leaves and little roses. The insertion is edged with tiny lace ruffles and the edge of the pillow outside the puff has a narrow satin ruffle also lace edged.

Russian linen crash is the season's most popular material for fancy work, and some pretty pillows are made of it in a new art work. The pillows are round and long like diminutive bolsters, then on the linen is painted in waterproof paints a good fruit design, over which the work is applied in silks, in long and short stitches. The work brings up the design and the coloring makes the fruit very natural looking. The pillows are finished at the ends by being shirred into big buttons in the center.

Lingerie pillows, one of which is added to each up-to-date couch, are prettier than ever. Flirt motifs appear in many, and some of the handkerchief linen ruffles are finished with tiny points of the material that our great grandmothers used to make to trim babies' dresses with. Many large real lace handkerchiefs are doing duty as pillow tops. As they are out of fashion it is a good way to use them up, and with lace-edged ruffles they are very attractive. Colored underslips show off the work so much better than the plain white that they are gaining in popularity, but they are of course of the most delicate colors.

Dr. Raymond Ludden, who has been located at 414 S. Brand boulevard during the past year, has moved his office and residence to 345 S. Orange street, corner of Broadway. 781f

For the past few weeks the family of Rev. R. W. Mottern, 340 So. Central avenue, pastor of the English Lutheran church, has been quarantined on account of a light case of scarlet fever in their small son Dorsey. Today their home is being fumigated by the health authorities. They wish to say to all friends and members of the congregation from today forward a'l will find a ready welcome as usual at their home. They appreciate very much the interest and sympathy of their many friends.

ROMANTIC WEDDING

What was a rather romantic wedding was celebrated Thursday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Barrows, 443 W. Colorado boulevard. The bride, Miss Hedwig Wechsung, left her home in Wegesach, a suburb of Bremen, Germany, about three weeks ago and made the hazardous war-time journey from Holland, after having her baggage carefully searched for possible forbidden information. The bridegroom, Mr. Paul Rabenschlag, who is 29 years old, left the German merchant marine, in which he was second officer, about three years ago and came to California which he had visited 12 years previously. On his arrival he declared his intention of becoming a citizen. He is now boatkeeper at the San Diego Rowing club.

The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. R. W. Mottern, pastor of the English Lutheran church, according to forms of the Lutheran church, partly in German and partly in English. At noon Mr. and Mrs. Rabenschlag left for San Diego where they will make their future home.

TROPICO

The Christmas shop and cafeteria dinner given by the Thursday club in K. P. hall Tuesday afternoon and evening proved a social as well as a financial success. The splendid program closed with dancing which was enjoyed until late in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace Kimbly of South San Fernando boulevard are entertaining as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Coombs of San Diego.

Mrs. W. J. Brown of Glendale avenue, whose illness has been the cause of much earnest solicitude among her numerous friends, has sufficiently recovered as to be able to resume her usual social duties.

Mrs. Samuel A. Ayres was hostess for the Norton Art club at her home on North Central avenue. The usual interesting program of Italian art was presented.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Poland, who have been the guests of their cousin, Mrs. David H. Imbler of West Park avenue, have returned to their home in Lyons, Kansas.

MONTROSE

Mr. S. F. Bent is building a garage on the Hunt place at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Potts and son Robert of Montrose grocery spent Thanksgiving day on the beach at Venice and Ocean Park.

Mr. Fred Collins has been ill the past few days, but is now reported on the road to recovery.

Dr. A. L. Bryant had a hurried call to Montrose on Sunday, to attend Curtis Hargett, a member of the Glendale High School Freshman class. Young Hargett and boy companions had planned a day's hunt and when about ready to depart, Hargett's "22" rifle was accidentally discharged, the bullet passing through his right wrist. Yes, the hunt was postponed, but Hargett's friends will be glad to learn that the injured member is mending as rapidly as can be expected.

Theater parties for boys are few and far between. Last Saturday night the Palace Grand of Glendale was the place of amusement for Sam Durand, Walter Hawkins, Claude Kingsbury, Howard Stickney and others.

Gratitude

Contractor J. Hein, on the School street improvement work at La Canada, treated his score of men to a turkey dinner on Thanksgiving day. Needless to say, the turkey disappeared in pleasing style. This compliment of faithful service, however, was too great for his Mexican shovel staff at Montrose to bear. They must return compliments. They did. Tuesday, about 2 p. m., they disappeared, walked out, quit, struck or about anything the contractor may want to term it.

WHAT IS REQUIRED TO GIVE BUSINESS A START HERE IN THE VALLEY?

This question is frequently asked. In the first place there is one line of business that all others depend upon in this valley, that of buying and selling real estate. We may say this is a case of "middleman" and that there are too many "middlemen" now. Just give the matter a little thought and you will see at once that you can no more get along without the middleman in real estate transactions than the banks of a large city could get along without a clearing house. Once in a while the owner of a piece of land finds a buyer or a buyer finds a place that suits him and the two parties close the deal at once between themselves in order to save the expense of the agent's commission and the title company's charges. In nine cases out of ten in less than six months both parties wish they had dealt through an agent and that the papers had passed through the hands of some good title company. For every "tenderfoot" that has been "stung" by a real estate agent you can find two or three who would give considerable today if they had consulted an agent before closing the deal and would gladly pay the commission now if they could get their money or land back.

And here is one thing we must not lose sight of. If I buy land, say for $5000, and soon find it is worth only $3500, with no immediate prospect of an increase in value, it is bad business to hang on to that land year after year paying taxes, losing the interest on the investment and probably worrying myself into bad health when I could take $3500 (which I know myself is all the place is worth) and with the experience I have purchased with my $1500 I can invest my $3500 to such good advantage that I soon retrieve my loss on the first purchase and can be enjoying life instead of toiling like a slave with only a gloomy outlook ahead. Don't hang on to a bad bargain a minute longer than is absolutely necessary, no matter whether it is a horse trade or a ten thousand dollar ranch. Pass it along to the next fellow. Consider what you have learned as well worth the price, take an extra hitch in your belt and try it again. It is the good loser who wins in the end.

Another matter that needs attention is misrepresentation when selling property. There may be localities where it is necessary to do this (which I doubt), but there certainly can be no excuse for such a thing here in this valley. There are plenty of facts to make good selling arguments without descending to false statements such as "Fortunes are to be made by raising chickens." "Seven crops of alfalfa can be grown in a year." "Oranges sold last year at $6.00 a box," etc. Let us cut all that cheap stuff out and do business on a higher plane. We have the goods and all we need is judicious advertising to bring them to the attention of the better class of buyers and we will obtain results that will surprise ourselves.

We don't all have land to sell, but we can all help the fellow who has, some can help only in a slight degree, but a good word from an adjoining property owner has been the means of closing many a sale and the more new blood of the right kind we can get into the valley, the greater benefit we shall all derive.

Christmas Suggestions

IT'S RATHER HARD to buy Xmas gifts. Isn't it? Not that you dislike the idea of giving, but you are at a loss to know what will please Father.

You will not have this trouble if you will consult us, for we are specialists in the selection of the right gift for the right person. Here are just a few of the many suggestions we can make to you:

FOR MOTHER—A beautiful piece of silver plated ware, or Sterling. A gift that would be in excellent taste and would be greatly appreciated by her.

FOR FATHER—A dependable Watch, a real man's gift. A watch that will give him a lifetime of accurate service. The most durable and accurate watch we know of. You can get it in the very thin design if you wish. He will certainly be proud of a gift like this.

FOR SISTER—A locket of the latest and most exquisite design. She would certainly be pleased with a gift like this, with a nice chain to wear it on.

FOR BROTHER—A high grade fountain pen—one that never clogs up, scratches or refuses to write. He will find it a mighty handy convenience and, therefore, a very acceptable gift.

FOR BABY—A spoon—it's about the nicest gift you can give a baby.

These are only a few of the things which we are able to suggest. Come in and look over our very complete stock and you will get a great number of suggestions.

The debate on incorporation at the town meeting Tuesday of last week fell rather flat as a debate. Both contestants for the affirmative were at home sick and those for the negative were also absent. Mr. Ashby had volunteered to speak in the affirmative, but he seemed to be the only one prepared. His arguments were convincing, but the matter resolved itself into a discussion rather than a debate. Capt. Hatch talked on the subject at some length, but no one was found willing to discuss the negative side, perhaps because of the lack of preparation. Mrs. Mary Woodruff occupied the chair during the discussion and Mrs. Kearney was appointed secretary pro tem.
